Biodiversity Project:

Barry O'Loughlin Biodiversity Officer with Clare Co Co in conjunction with Inagh Tidy Towns, Fr. Martin Shanahan and Bishop Fintan Monahan have carried out biodiversity enhancement actions on the church grounds as part of the Local Biodiversity Action Funded Project 'Return to Nature Clare Church Biodiversity Project'. Inagh & Kilnamona Churches are part of 12 churches in Clare participating in the project. Biodiversity actions include bird nest boxes, installing bat roost boxes and other bird nest boxes on trees within the church grounds, planting some pollinator friendly native apple trees and adopting a pollinator friendly mowing regime ('6 week short-cut flowering meadow') on a section of the church grounds to provide a nectar and pollen source for declining pollinators by allowing wildflowers to grow. A section of the lawn may look different than usual with the longer grass, but please bear with us, as the bee and butterfly population is declining nationally & we all need to do our part to protect them. We are very grateful to the RSS Team for assisting us with this project.
